MANY COME ACROSS LINE

COME HERE FROM IOWA FOR MARRIAGE LICENSES.

JUNE BANNER MONTH

Very Few Maryville Residents Procure Marriage Permits in Nodaway County.

June of this year bids fair to be the banner month for the newlyweds in this county, and also for the recorder, if the present rate of application for marriage licenses keeps the pace set so far this month. Up to this morning the rate has been a little under one a day, or all told seventeen. This exceeds by six the total number of marriage permits issued by Mrs. Mamie Clardy, recorder, for the entire month of June last year.

Last year May held the record in number of licenses issued but this year it will no doubt fall behind the bridal month of June as the same number of licenses were issued last month that have been issued by Mrs. Clardy up to this morning in June.

So far this year 104 couples have been granted marriage licenses in Nodaway County, February leading with twenty-one, March coming second with eighteen, April and May each tieing at seventeen and January hold cellar position with fourteen.

Strange as it may be very few Maryville residents apply here for marriage licenses. But it seems to be the case in all sections of the United States, as many licenses issued here are to Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas couples, and others living in counties adjoining Nodaway County. So far this year, out of the 104 licenses issued at the court house, nine of the couples gave their home as Maryville. There were nine other licenses issued where just one of the couple lived in Maryville.

Maryville is sort of a mecca for Iowa residents to come to for the necessary legal paper that permits the union of opposite sex.

Fully one-third of the total number of licenses issued here are to couples who drive across the line and come to Maryville to pay Mrs. Clardy the $1.50 fee for a marriage permit. Taking the records of licenses issued since the first of the year, at least one of the parties of thirty-five gave their home address in Iowa and of the thirty-five licenses issued, fifteen were to couples both living in the neighboring state north of Missouri.

The Iowa law compelling divorcees to wait a year after divorce is granted before getting married again is the cause for many coming to Maryville. Mrs. Clardy tells that she has to refuse many applications as Iowa residents confuse their laws with Missouri statutes. In this state both parties in a marriage agreement must be 21 years of age to secure a license without consent of parents or guardian, while in Iowa the age limit is 18 years.

Just the other day a youthful couple came to Mrs. Clardy's office and made application for license. The girl was under age but she insisted that she was entitled to a marriage license as she had been previously married and was divorced. Mrs. Clardy refused on the ground of under age and in a few days the same parties came back and the young lady had the consent of her parents.

There are a few who come over the line from Nebraska. The laws in that state require application to be made ten days before issuance of the license. Up to date this year six have made a pilgrimage from various towns in Nebraska to Maryville for the marriage license. As a marriage license issued in Nodaway County is good only in this state, all those who come from Iowa and Nebraska are generally married here.

Wreck Death List Is Now Forty-Five

Hackettstown, N. J., June 19—The death list of the Lackawanna train wreck near here Tuesday grew to forty-five today with the death of John Kirnceketz of Chicago.

Ford Bradley will go to Bedford, Ia., this evening to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Bradley, over the week end.

Mrs. R. F. Wells, Mrs. Charles Patterson and Mrs. Mary Hornbuckle and daughter of Orrsburg were Maryville visitors today.

A Liberal Response in Drive for Funds

Popular Subscription to Improve Cemetry Roads Will Be Continued Next Week.

Solicitors canvassing the city in the popular subscription drive for the improvement of the roads leading to the four Maryville cemeteries have met with a liberal response from Maryville residents. According to members of the Maryville Cemetery Road Improvement Association several large donations have been received, which has swelled the total amount. However, as yet no complete lists of pledges or donations have been turned in.

It is not expected that the campaign for funds will be completed this week and canvassers will be sent out next week.

LIST JOBS AT C. OF C. OFFICE

EMPLOYMENT SITUATION IS GRADUALLY IMPROVING.

IS "SERVICE" FEATURE

Maryville Chamber of Commerce Employer And Employe Together And Supplies Farmers With Help.

With the coming of excellent farming weather, the employment situation at the local Chamber of Commerce office is gradually improving until now there are several calls for farm labor which the organization is unable to fill at the present time.

This is one of the "service" features of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce. By a plan inaugurated several years ago, the local organization has become a clearing house for farm labor throughout this and surrounding counties.

The farmer who is in need of help, either temporarily or permanently, calls the Chamber of Commerce office and lists his requirements. The man who is looking for a job calls at the office here and if he can meet the desired qualifications, is put in touch with the farmer who needs help.

This service has grown until the farmers all over Nodaway County are taking advantage of it and rely to a very great extent upon the Chamber of Commerce to supply them with help during the busy seasons of the year.

Any farmers who need help are requested to call the Chamber of Commerce office, and men desiring work may call and be suitably furnished with employment.

No charge whatever, is made for this service, as it is one of the purposes of the Chamber of Commerce here to aid the community in every way possible.

Thought Girl Alive and Halted Funeral

But It Is Later Discovered That Moisture On Face Is Due To Intense Fever From Which She Died.

Wellston, Okla., June 19.—Thought at first to be a victim of suspended animation, the body of Miss Bertie West, 16, was lowered into its final resting place here today. The funeral, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, was halted by the mother, who, taking a last look at her child, noticed perspiration on the girl's face.

Further medical examination revealed the girl was dead. Physicians explained the moisture on her face was due to the intense fever from which she died.

Return From Illinois.

Mrs. J. A. Ford and her grandson, Ford Bradley, returned yesterday morning from a two weeks' visit with the former's son, Harold Ford and family, at St. Charles, Ill.

STATE SLOWLY LOSES GROUND

DEFENSE HITS HARD IN ITS OPENING TESTIMONY.

FAIMAN "IS CONFUSED"

Star Witness Against William D. Shepherd Fails To Deliver Expected Blows In McClintock Trial.

Chicago, June 19.—With the completion of testimony by "Dr." Charles C. Faiman, the state today rested its case against William D. Shepherd; on trial for the murder of his millionaire foster-son, Billy McClintock, the defense, through its first three witnesses, launched an attack on Faiman's testimony.

Faiman, who testified he gave Shepherd the typhoid germs that caused the death of young McClintock, asserted that he first heard of Shepherd when the latter wrote him a letter on "Stoll and Shepherd" stationery asking about a course in bacteriology.

Miss Eva Peterson, stenographer in Shepherd's law office, testified for the defense that there is no "Stoll and Shepherd" stationery, and that for years there has been no business transacted in the office under that partnership name.

Miss Isabelle Anderson, former stenographer for Shepherd, testified that the partnership of Stoll and Shepherd was dissolved in June, 1919. She declared that she and Stoll destroyed all of the letterheads bearing the name of the dissolved partnership.

Arthur P. Conway, a self-confessed convict, who said he knew Faiman, testified that Faiman's reputation for the truth was "very bad."

An attack upon the testimony of Miss Isabelle Pope, young McClintock's fiance, was the next step of the defense. Miss Pope, testifying for the state, insisted that she used the word "germ" in her testimony at the coroner's inquest. W. J. Mitchell, a shorthand reporter, who took down her notes at the inquest, said he did not see the word "germ" anywhere in his notes.

Court adjourned early until tomorrow as Judge Lynch had to attend a judges meeting.

Chicago, June 19.—The state's carefully-built case against William D. Shepherd, alleged murderer of his foster son, William Nelson McClintock, showed signs of crumpling today as its star witness, Charles C. Faiman, openly admitted he was confused by the hammering cross-examination of the defense.

To refute his testimony made on direct examination, the defense counsel repeatedly confronted the witness with contradictory evidence he had given at the bail hearing when Faiman, not so dapper as he appeared when he first took the stand, sought refuge in sparring.

"I am confused," he said in answer to William Stewart's repeated fire of questions.

"Of course you are confused," answered Stewart in a tone of mock solitude.

The state rested its case. The defense then began introducing its evidence.

Sheridan Boy Drowns While on Fishing Trip

Elmer Morris, Age 15, Falls in Lake —Funeral Services Tomorrow at Sheridan Christian Church.

Elmer Morris, 15 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris of Sheridan was drowned yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock while he and two other boys, Lawrence Campbell and Homer Lee Rasco, were fishing in a lake about one mile southeast of Sheridan.

Morris fell in the lake, which, at places are sixteen feet deep, and never came up. Homer Lee Rasco jumped in after him but being unable to swim had to be rescued by Campbell before he got into the deep water. The boys ran to Sheridan to give the alarm and the body was found by John Tucker, one and a half hours later.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock at the Christian Church in Sheridan with burial in Sheridan.

The young boy is survived by his parents and a sister, Freda, and a brother, Oscar.

2 COUNCILMEN DENIED SEATS

IRREGULARITY DISCOVERED IN STUDENT ELECTIONS.

"M" BOOK IS PLANNED

New Edition of College Publication Will Contain Several New Features, Temple Allen Says.

The Student Council of the Student Government Association of the State Teachers College refused to seat two of the five recently elected representatives to that body at a meeting last night. The other three were seated and took part in the deliberations of the body last night.

In discussing the reason for the Council's refusal to accept the two representatives as members of the council, Temple Allen, president of the Council said, "It was found that the manner of electing these two persons was not in accordance with the provisions of article five, section two of the constitution of the Association. The elections had been held under the provisions of article five, section three instead."

The Council directed that letters be sent to the freshmen and sophomore classes in which the two iregular elections were held notifying them of the illegality of the elections and directing that another election be held in each class before the expiration of the first twenty school days of the quarter as stipulated in the constitution. In case the elections are not held at the expiration of that time the two classes lose their representation on the Council.

Three new representatives, Harry Nelson from the senior class, Wilson Craig from the Philomathean Literary Society and Zona Mae Hoyt from the Excelsior Literary Society were seated by the Council last night. The Council further decided that the vacancy in the office of representative-at-large created by the graduation of Raymond Henning at the end of the spring quarter will not be filled as the office will be discontinued at the beginning of the fall quarter under the provisions of the new constitution.

Mr. Allen also stated this morning that there was a tentative plan to have a joint meeting of the Council and the Student Welfare Committee of the College next week to discuss the makeup and contents of the new student handbook which is to be issued this fall. This will be second edition of the book which is called the "M" Book.

Mr. Allen said: "The edition will contain several new features in addition to what is in the present book. It will be bigger, contain more pages, contain many College scenes, and information in the several departments of the book will be more complete. The new constitution will be printed in full along with some new rules governing the actions of freshmen in the College. On the whole it will be bigger and better. A copy of the handbook will be issued to each student next fall at the time he enrolls in the school."

Miss Grace Foster was elected secretary and treasurer of the Council last night to succeed Miss Roberta Cook whose term of office has expired.

To M. W. A. Convention.

Sam Carmichael left this morning by automobile for Chicago, where he will attend the national M. W. A. convention which will be held there next week.

Miss Mary Magette of Beloit, Kan., is visiting at the home of Miss Anna Laura Merrigan.

AMUNDSEN IS NOW A HERO

NORWAY SENDS MESSAGES OF CONGRATULATIONS.

VICTORY FOR ARCTIC

Polar Expedition Fails to Reach the North Pole—Struggles for Days In Icy Gales.

Oslo, Norway, June 19—Capt. Roald Amundsen was the national hero of Norway today. An official message of congratulation was forwarded by the Norweigan government to the explorer who, with his party, has returned safely to Kings Bay, Spitsbergen, after being missing twenty-eight days in the region of the North Pole.

Members of the Norweigan parliament stood while the president opened the chamber session today with congratulations for Captain Amundsen.

Dr. Skatburn told the Chamber the soundings made by Amundsen within 160 miles of the pole were significant and valuable.

Oslo, Norway, June 19.—The Norwegian government has sent the following message to Roald Amundsen:

"The government sends you and your brave companions hearty greetings and congratulations on your wonderful journey. Welcome home."

The Seidt Aeronautical Association sent the explorer this dispatch:

"Welcome. Great enthusiasm over your brilliant journey."

London, June 19.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Copenhagen gives a message received from Oslo which says that when the first brief report that Amundsen had returned was received in the Norwegian capital the news was posted in windows. Crowds gathered in the streets and cheered loudly. The restaurants suspended their musical programs in order to enable their bands to play the national anthem, after which the patrons cheered Amundsen.

New York, June 19.—Another victory for the elements of the Arctic over man was chalked up yesterday when the Amundsen-Ellsworth expedition returned to Kings Bay, Spitzenbergen, after failing to reach the North Pole.

The six members of the party returned, but not in the two airplanes in which they had set out May 21 to fly to the "top of the world." A Norwegian sealer performed this service, Amundsen announced through the American Newspaper Alliance.

The goal in this struggle—a goal for which men have suffered untold hardships and made sacrifices that sometimes meant death—was less than two hundred miles away when it was decided to turn back.

The battling with the fury of the Arctic was not ended when the explorers became convinced they must abandon their quest. Days and days of weary toil in icy gales lay ahead of them, for the two planes were locked in ice.

Decided to Give It Up.

The planes had landed in order to obtain definite bearings. Observations indicated to the party that no land was near on the north. This, they believed, probably meant that a landing at the pole to make observations would be impossible. To fly to the pole without landing meant a barren victory to Capt. Roald Amundsen, the leader of the expedition, hence the decision to return.

With the gasoline supply half gone and the machines held in the vice-like grip of the ice, it was decided to abandon one of the planes and concentrate the efforts on freeing the other. This would carry the members of both crews back to King's Bay. Plans for the flight called for this step in event of an accident to either of the planes, such as a disastrous landing.

Twenty-four Days Freeing Plane.

Then began the efforts to liberate a plane for the return. Digging hour after hour against the frozen waters that held the machine captive, the explorers were rewarded after twenty-four days. One concession had been wrung from the greedy grasp of the Northland.

The trip back to King's Bay was started Monday. All equipment that possibly could be spared was left behind. Food was reduced to a minimum, and only what gasoline believed necessary for the flight was taken.

The engine responded to the prayers of the party, and the epochal fight to reach the pole had come to a close.

Through eight and one-half hours, much of it in fog, the plane sped toward Spitzbergen. A landing was made at North Cape to await more favorable weather. But shortly after the landing there, a sealing vessel was sighted. Again the plane took the air.

Hearty Welcome on Sealer.

Amundsen and his companions received a hearty welcome aboard the vessel, which took the plane in tow. But even the satisfaction of returning by air, as they had left, was denied the explorers.

A gale sent the ship into Lady Franklin Bay for shelter. There the night was spent. The next day held out no hope for better weather conditions, so the members of the expedition left on the sealer for King's Bay arriving there at 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

Their intention was to return with gasoline to bring back the plane abandoned at Lady Franklin Bay.

The Arctic defeated Amundsen, but it has not taken the fight out of him. At King's Bay today he said he might attempt again to conquer the Pole, though his next trip would be only a trip over it as he is convinced there is no landing place.

NO FRAUD IN OIL SCANDAL

GOVERNMENT LOSES CASE—LEASE DECLARED VALID.

DEFENSE IS UPHELD

Conspiracy Charges Involved $230,000 In Liberty Bonds—Sinclair Had No Connection With It.

Cheyenne, Wyo., June 19.—The government today lost its suit to declare invalid the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve lease granted to Harry F. Sinclair by Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of Interior.

Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy ruled that there was no conspiracy or fraud in securing the lease.

Judge Kennedy disposed of the conspiracy charges involving the $230,000 in Liberty bonds, traced to Fall through the Continental Trading Co., of Canada, by declaring Sinclair had no connection with it. The $25,000 in bonds given Fall by Sinclair for a trip to Russia was clearly a "loan," the court ruled, and declared the executive order of the late President Harding transferring control of naval oil lands from the navy to the interior department was valid.

The defense's contention on practically every technical legal point involved in the policies of the navy and interior departments in the leasing of the oil lands were upheld by the court. Judge Kennedy declared the Sinclair lease was a good contract for the government and dismissed the government bill of complaint.

Dentist Pleads not Guilty to Murder

Los Angeles Judge Refuses Motion of Defense Attorneys to Quash Indictment—Trial Starts August 17.

Los Angeles, Calif., June 19.—Dr. Thomas W. Young pleaded "not guilty" today when arraigned in superior court here on an indictment accusing him of slaying his wife, Mrs. Grace Grogan-Young, with poison dental gas.

Judge Edwin F. Hahn refused a motion of Young's attorneys to quash the indictment, and fixed August 17 as the date for the trial.

The courtroom was jammed with murder fans when the little pale-faced dentist made his plea.

"Not guilty," he pleaded, almost in a whisper.

Sustains Deep Cut on His Right Hand

Vinton Carver, an employe of the Barmann Auto Company sustained a deep cut on his right hand while cranking a car at the garage about 9 o'clock this morning. The crank was near a license plate and while trying to start the engine, his hand slipped and fell against the edge of the plate. The wound was dressed immediately and he is getting along very well this afternoon.

Howard Kaufman, Burlington Junction; Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Lewis and family, Harmony; and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morrisey, their son and daughter of Conception Junction, were visitors here yesterday.

WON'T DISCUSS NEW SENATOR

WISCONSIN GOVERNOR REFUSES TO COMMENT.

BODY LEAVES CAPITAL

Funeral Services For La Follette Will Be Held Monday—His Death Affects Third Party.

Madison, Wisc., June 19.—All thoughts of the probable successor to Senator Robert M. La Follette were pushed to the background here today as the Wisconsin capital made ready to receive the body of her most illustrious son.

"My best friend is dead; can't we adjourn politics and political questions."

This was Governor John G. Blaine's response to all questions regarding the man who would be selected to carry on for Wisconsin.

"Senator La Follette is dead," the governor continued, "and he died as he had lived, courageous and full of love."

Washington, June 19.—Away from the strife of politics, away from the scenes of his greatest battles, away from the worries and toils of this world, Senator Robert Marion La Follette of Wisconsin started home today for his well-earned rest.

In death, simplicity will mark his last journey homeward and his funeral. The funeral train, a special section of the Capital Limited of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, left Washington at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Madison. The coffin was placed on the observation car and the family occupied a compartment in the same car. Other cars were occupied by members of the special Senatorial delegation appointed to attend the funeral, and close friends of the family.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, who was La Follette's vice-presidential running mate, last year, headed the Senatorial group. The party will arrive in the State capital late tomorrow afternoon. The body will lie in state at the capitol building tomorrow night and Sunday, and the funeral will be held Monday.

Washington, June 19.—The passing of Robert M. La Follette from the arena of political controversy, in which he had been such a spectacular figure for the last third of a century, will have a profound effect on national politics.

Certainly the death of no other single senator or individual now in public life, aside from the President, would carry with it the many political significances that are to be seen in the death of "Fighting Bob."

It wasn't so much that he occupied a position of commanding influence, for during his twenty-five years in congress, nineteen of which he spoke from the senate forum, he was practically always a minority voice "crying out in the wilderness." But he had built up for himself a "disturbance power" as leader of the radicals that could not be minimized.

La Follette controlled a certain definite influence and vote in America's public life, even though it was a minority influence always, due to the close balance between the two major parties in congress. In recent years the La Follette power had been altogether out of proportion to its actual voting strength. And this influence has left its impress in the shaping of legislation, usually by compromise, for years.

Ruled With Iron Hand.

La Follette virtually was dictator of the radical group when it came to politics. He ruled his own organization with an iron hand. Politicians here do not see his successor. They expect the radical group to go through a period of disintegration, not only in Washington, but in Wisconsin and the Northwest, until an heir to his leadership has been established in power.

The La Follette influence was felt in three phases—in Wisconsin, where he dominated the political situation for a generation and built up an organization that could not be defeated; the "Wisconsin idea" lapped over into nearby states and contributed, along with the economic distress, to the wave of radicalism the Northwest has passed through—in Washington, where he organized and commanded the insurgent group that has held the balance of power between the Republicans and Democrats more or less since war—in the nation, as the Presidential candidate and active leader of the third party movement.

This movement had been pretty well shot by the disappointing showing it made in the elections last November; still its sponsors were hoping to keep the organization a going concern. There is not much more chance for the third party without the dramatic figure of La Follette to draw votes to it than there was for the historic Bull Moose party to live on when Theodore Roosevelt returned to the Republican fold. There will be a paper organization and possibly a presidential candidate place in the field.

Borah the Only Possibility.

But unless a national figure like Senator William E. Borah should take hold of the movement, and that is not probable, it is apt to evaporate to about the voting strength of the Socialists. A figure as conspicuous as La Follette to lead the movement—with the exception of Borah—is not in sight. The labor chieftains, who were La Follette's potential backers last year, realized he could not make another race. They had been drawing away from the third party movement and attempting to get back to the non-partisan status ever since November.

To whom the La Follette leadership in congress will pass is somewhat clearer than the national political aspects of his departure. Senator George W. Norris and Senator Borah are the two logical successors to take command of the radical, or progressive, groups. There is apt to be a division of the forces, must as was beginning to develop even while La Follette sat in his seat in the senate. The more moderate progressives were drawing away from La Follette and following Borah more. The more extreme liberals unquestionably will look to Norris.

Without the national prominence of La Follette, Norris has been a co-laborer, not a follower, of the Wisconsin senator for two decades. In many respects he is better qualified to lead a senatorial or congressional group than La Follette. His liberalisms and honesty is unquestioned; his foes respect his sincerity. And he does not have the crop of bitter animosities and feuds that La Follette had incurred in his years of public life. Whether more of the group that have looked to La Follette for leadership in the past will follow Norris or Borah remains to be seen.

May Go Back Into Fold.

Representative John M. Nelson and Representative Henry A. Cooper were the La Follette spokesmen in the house. Both were Wisconsin men, and both were just that—spokesmen for La Follette. They echoed his views on public questions. It is not probable either can long hold the troublesome group in the house together in a compact unit as La Follette did. Not a few of the Wisconsin representatives really desired to climb back aboard the Republican bandwagon again and accept the Coolidge leadership. Fear of the La Follette wrath destroying them politically back home restrained some of the insurgents are very at them. Now that La Follette is gone, to become regulars.

The Wisconsin situation is certain to become one of the most interesting in American politics, now that the La Follette personal rule is ended. A free-for-all battle with a complete realignment of forces and factions is in prospect. La Follette had an airtight organization throughout the state. The University of Wisconsin was no small part of it. The organization has been run by Robert M. La Follette, Jr., for his father, and he is a shrewd politician.

Philip La Follette, another son, was preparing to follow in his father's footsteps to become the statesman and orator of the family, while "Young Bob" filled the practical position.

Will Try to Retain Grip.

The La Follette organization will attempt to retain its grasp on the state. But with many striking out for leadership, and "Fighting Bob" no longer on the job to keep the more ambitious in their places, their is a prospect of feuds and animosities rending the so-called progressive ranks. In fact, a good sized squall was on before La Follette's death, with Governor John J. Blaine, the La Follette governor, in a temporary "falling out" with his chief.

La Follette, as the story goes, originally intended to put Governor Blaine against Senator Lenroot. But La Follette's career has been full of breaks with men he had created politically.

Of course, the entire situation changes now and the results cannot be forecast so soon after La Follette's death. Governor Blaine may attepmt to take leadership of the La Follette group.

Even though La Follette had been read out of the Republican party, his personal influence was great in the Northwest. With his death the Old Guard believes the path on which it already had embarked to bring the Northwest back to G. O. P. normalcy has been smoothed.

Retail Food Prices Continue to Climb

Washington, June 19.—The retail cost of food continues to advance. A rise of one-half of 1 per cent in May as compared with April, while for the year period ending May 15, the increase in all articles of food combined was 7.5 per cent, the department of labor announced today. For the twelve-year period, the increase amounted to 57 per cent. Kansas City, Little Rock, Peoria, St. Louis and Springfield, Ill., the increase amounted to less than .5 of 1 per cent.

SOMETHING WAS BOUND TO GET CROWDED OFF.

Chamber of Commerce Has Become Advertising Agency for City

The following is the fifteenth installment of the article on "Community Advertising," written for the Democrat-Forum by D. A. Caldwell, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce has rightly become the advertising department of the city. The publicity which it can secure for a city, without cost, is worth as much, because of the public nature of its business, if not more, than the organization costs the forward-looking members of the community who voluntarily support the work.

The modern Chamber of Commerce movement is less than 20 years old. One of the most vital problems of any community is 'what' of the future. In planning for the future community advertising has come to be an important factor in the determination of how the plan of action shall be carried out. Upon the Chamber of Commerce depends, in a large measure, the progress and prosperity of the community. The task of building communities for tomorrow rests largely with the Chamber of Commerce. Around it all of the community's agencies must centralize.

Only 1 per cent of our population visits our schools. Only 10 per cent of the newspapers throughout the country employ educational editors. Only one-half the newspapers receive news from individual schools. From an advertising standpoint schools are behind the churches. There has been no definite attempt made to develop future community leaders.

Unless we make plans to use the schools in community advertising, we shall be compelled to begin all over again and train a new group of community builders.

The schools are our greatest community asset. When good, they make for progress, and attract people. With proper equipment and teaching staff, there is no reason why the schools should not become a part of the advertising machinery of the community.

Two Schoolhouses Near Skidmore Sold

Buildings No Longer Needed Because There are not Enough Children in District to Warrant Hiring a Teacher.

(Skidmore News.)

The Board of Education of the Skidmore Consolidated schools sold two of the rural school buildings Monday afternoon of this week. The Union Valley school has been closed for the past few years on account of there not being enough school children in the district to warrant the hiring of a teacher, and the same conditions exist in the Scrub Oak and Mt. Vernon districts.

The Union Valley schoolhouse is about the oldest school building in this part of the county, it was built in 1870. The school building and out-buildings were sold to a committee composed of Aaron Linville, Wm. Taylor and George Owens, for $225. The school grounds automatically reverts to the land from which it was taken, in this case, to the Wes Clark farm.

The Scrub Oak school building and out buildings were sold to G. W. Randall, and the school grounds will go back to the Frank Collins farm. Mr. Randall will move the buildings to town. The price was $131.

The Mt. Vernon school building will be moved to town and used in the school work. Earl Stevenson bought the coal house for $10. The school ground wil lgo back to the J. C. Collins farm.

The board also hired Mark Loucks and Roy Owens to drive the school trucks next year.—Skidmore News.

Hubert O'Donell of Arkoe was in Maryville today.

SUNDAY, JUNE 21, IS FATHER'S DAY.

FATHER

Who is it wears the patch work hose
And seldom goes to picture shows
That his girl may have fine clothes?
It's Father!
Who is it wears last summer's hat
That his boy may make a sporty frat
And thinks it's quite all right at that?
It's Father!
Who is it buys the bread and meat
And keeps the shoes on all our feet
And then gets shoved in a back seat?
It's Father!
We've Mother's Day and Poppy Days
And lots of other holidays,
But almost all are Labor Days,
For Father!
Get out his slippers and easy chair
Caress and smooth his rumpled hair
And let him know you're glad he's there—
Your Father!

Sunday wear a flower of red, (A white one if the dear soul's dead), And reverently bow your head In thanks for such A Father!

Dunlop Tubes

Dunlop Tubes are made with the extruded method. In other words they are literally squirted out of a machine. The extrusion method controls the thickness of the tube. It is uniform strength from end to end. Unlike most other makers Dunlop does not cure, or vulcanize its tubes on a straight mandrel or steel pole. Dunlop contends that a tube should be built and vulcanized in the shape it will serve—circular.

Chicago Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, June 19.—Action of wheat governed trading in futures on the Chicago Board of Trade today. The bread grains went into new high ground on the present movement and its strong undertone kept an inevitable break in coarse grains.

All interest were good buyers of wheat.

General crop advises showed favorable conditions in the Corn Belt. This with a weakened stock market, caused recessions from an early bulge. Strength in wheat, however, kept the downtrend faction above the opening.

Buying in oats was based on the market's firm undertone. Weather and crop news were mostly favorable.

Heavy covering of lard strengthened the entire provisions list.

Pickering

O. G. Null.

Miss Goldie Carmichael started Sunday morning for Berkley, Calif., where she will attend the University of California this summer. She was accompanied from Kansas City by Miss Parks with whom she has been teaching for several years and who will also attend the University.

Mrs. James Buchanan of Osawatomie, Kansas, left for her home Monday after a ten days' visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Null and with other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Leach of Oppaloosa, Louisiana, are visiting at the home of Miss Belle Leach, a sister of Mr. Leach. The Leach family lived for many years on the farm just south of town now owned by C. R. Harman, but moved to Louisiana some eight or nine years ago. They like the southland very well, though it is quite different from their old home here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McKee went to St. Joseph Wednesday to attend the funeral of J. W. Cotteral, a former resident of Pickering, but who has resided in St. Joseph several years. Mrs. Cotteral and Mrs. McKee are sisters.

Ernest Ingels returned the latter part of last week from Rochester, Minn., where he underwent an operation at the Mayo clinic about three weeks ago. Mr. Ingels says he is gaining in strength and hopes to be able to resume his work at the Farmers Exchange in a few weeks.

Rev. and Mrs. T. M. Walton and family drove to Skidmore Thursday evening for a visit at the home of Mr. Walton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walton.

The rains we have had during the past week have been splendid for the growing crops and came so gently that they did no damage. Many farmers were in the fields on Thursday though the ground was just a little wet for best results. The corn is growing very fast and with a few days good weather to cultivate it will be in better than average condition.

Wheat and oats are filling well and will be ready to harvest by the end of the month. With harvest, haying and corn plowing all demanding his attention the farmer is likely to be quite a busy man for the next few weeks.

The Birth of the Title "Hot Water"

Harold Lloyd Considered Many Titles Before Finding One Which He Considered Suitable.

The way of a title is long and devious. Especially those titles that are selected for original stories. Of course it is different with titles of stage plays and books. They have a certain commercial value and to change them would be ridiculous although it is a frequent occurrence in the motion picture industry.

Harold Lloyd is one of the toughest customers of title writers. He always has been very successful in selecting snappy, appealing titles which fit in perfectly with his story. Consequently, his demands are a little more severe than the next.

For his new picture, which he has called "Hot Water," Lloyd waded through nearly five hundred suggestions, out of this mass he first picked the title "Hubby," which remained virtually throughout the production of the picture. In fact, two previews were held under that name.

Then one day, John Grey, of the Lloyd scenario staff, and one of the best title writers in the country, hit upon "Hot Water." He was discussing some subtitle with the comedian, when he said:

"Harold, what would you think of 'Hot Water' as a title for one of your pictures?"

Lloyd thought a moment.

"What would I think of it? That's the title of our new one," responded Harold. "I think it's a peach, and it admirably fits the story. Our principal character is certainly in nothing if it isn't hot water."

And thus was born another new and appealing Lloyd title. "Hot Water" comes to the Electric Theater June 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26.

THE KEY TO SUCCESS

Success depends primarily on a healthy liver and stomach. You can not think straight if these organs are not working properly. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is usually successful in such cases. Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach, is to try this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. At all druggists.—Adv.

A Carload of Honey Dew Pig Meal Will be on Track for Farmers at Barnard, June 25.

HONEY DEW PIG MEAL

28½ per cent Protein.

EQUAL TO MOTHER'S MILK

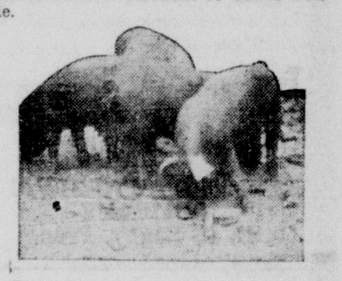
NEW METHOD OF RAISING HOGS AND PIGS SUCCESSFULLY

REMEMER THIS — THE MOST CRITICAL TIME IN A PIG'S LIFE IS WEANING TIME. If you take little pigs from mother's milk and put them on coarse feed all of a sudden without a substitute for mother's milk, you invite trouble.

You must have a Pig Meal high in available, digestible protein and as near mother's milk as possible. Honey Dew Pig Meal is the highest quality of all. HONEY DEW DOES IT.

Corn and oats exclusively are not a proper feed for little pigs at weaning time, as the little pigs at this time are not old enough to handle coarse, unbalanced feeds like corn and oats.

How the pig starts at weaning time means either success or failure. Pigs wean themselves on HONEY DEW PIG MEAL without setbacks or bowel trouble.



These five litter brothers weaned themselves on Honey Dew Pig Meal. Pig below was taken out of the same litter. See the difference.

This pig weaned on corn and oats. Result—a runt in spite of his being the best pig of the bunch at the start.

Shoat Scale Test Producing Pork at 4c per pound.

Scale test on 90 pigs owned by Elmore Nauman, Mount City, Mo., weighed an average of 41 lbs. per head at start: The 90 head of pigs fed a period of 41 days on HONEY DEW PIG MEAL and nothing else except water. At the end of 41 days' feed, the pigs weighed an average of 80 lbs., making a net gain of 39 lbs of pork per head in 41 days. Each pig only consumed 41 lbs of HONEY DEW PIG MEAL and water, producing pork for less than 4 cents a pound.

How to Handle Brood Sows With Pigs

Feed the sow HONEY DEW PIG MEAL as a slop while she is nursing her pigs. By so doing you will increase the milk flow and the sow will not fall off in fat. In short, feed the pigs by feeding the sow while the pigs are nursing. We recommend for a 250 to 300 lb sow, one pound of HONEY DEW PIG MEAL and 3 ears of corn—and nothing else except water. Little pigs will wean themselves while running with the sows. After pigs reach 4 weeks of age, place HONEY DEW PIG MEAL in dry form in self-feeders with plenty of fresh water near the feeder. Fix a place where they can run in and out as they please to the feeder containing the HONEY DEW PIG MEAL. They will wean themselves in 8 weeks. No set-backs or bowel trouble.

Fattening Hogs Fed Honey Dew Pig Meal

as a balancer, will save half your home grown feed, with larger gains.

Harry Tilson Will Play with M. M. B. C.

Will Hold Down First Sack Against Milwaukee Giants—Claude Wilson Will Umpire.

Harry Tilson, popular with the Maryville baseball fans, will be seen on the line-up of the Maryville Merchants' Baseball Club in the engagement Sunday with the Milwaukee Giants at the local ball park. Tilson will occupy the keystone sack, which he formerly held down when playing with Maryville.

John Brennan, who has been playing first base, and used as relief hurler, may be on the mound for the Pickering team Sunday when it plays Parnell town team at Parnell. The rest of the Maryville line-up for Sunday will probably be the same as used in other games, with Buhler and Tommy Tobin as battery, Jameson on second, Phil Tobin short stop, Frank Meyers, third base, England, Mayes and Still in the field.

The management of the M. M. B. C. announced this morning that Claude Wilson has again joined the staff as umpire and will officiate at the remainder of the games if time will permit.

"Bearcats" Pay for Dinners Last Night

Former Board Directors Country Club Win by a Medal Score of 214 to 223.

Consistent playing on the part of the former board of directors of the Maryville Country Club cost the team known as the "Bearcats" the dinners at the Country Club last night.

The ex-directors' total score was 214 to the Bearcats' 223. Uel W. Lamkin, president of the State Teachers College, had low medal score on the nine holes, shooting the course in 47. He was followed closely by his colleague, H. Frank Lawrence, athletic director, with a 48. W. F. Phares, president of the board of regents, playing his first season of golf, found his luck against him yesterday afternoon and shot a much higher score than the first time he ever made the rounds.

It is reported that the former members of the board of directors were "off" yesterday and their scores were not up to usual standard. Ed Keck, who has been shooting in the 40's, went above the fifty mark. Luther A. Richman, voice instructor at the College, played below his average game and H. F. Lawrence says he had some hard luck.

The members of the board of director's team comprised Harvey Haines, F. P. Reuillard, Ed Keck and James Todd. W. F. Phares, Uel W. Lamkin, H. Frank Lawrence and Luther A. Richman, made up the Bearcat team. Lamkin, Richman, Keck and Haines played in one foursome and Phares, Lawrence, Reuillard and Todd made up the other foursome.

Will Hold Four-Day Picnic in September

Odd Fellows Lodge at Burlington Junction Will Hold Big Event There From September 1 to 4.

(Burlington Junction Post.)

The local Odd Fellow lodge is planning to stage a big event in Burlington Junction this fall and at their meeting Monday night, a committee was named to make arrangements for a four day picnic and homecoming which will be held on September 1 to 4.

The Odd Fellows plan to make it one of the biggest events that has been held here in a long time and expect to book many worth while attractions for the four days. The picnic will be held in the park just south of town, which is an ideal place for such a gathering. In addition they will arrange for a display of farm and garden products, fancy work and culinary products, making the event in one way resemble an old time county fair.

The picnic will come at a time of the year when farm work is slack and just before the opening of the school term, making it an ideal time for drawing big crowds.

The members of the lodge are to be commended for sponsoring a move of this kind, and while it is to be carried out under their direction, they invite everyone to take a part in it and to attend and enjoy it. Everyone should cooperate with the Odd Fellows in making this event a success.

Report Hog Stealing in Guilford Vicinity

(Guilford Times.)

T. Medsker had been thinking that all of his hogs apparently were not in his pasture. So on Tuesday morning he counted them and found that twenty-two were missing. On further investigation it developed that some one or two trucks had loaded the hogs at a pasture gate.

Apprehension of the thieves would be gratefully appreciated by the Guilford community.
